

CHAMBERS GLAD CONTROL AT END

Traffic Director of U. S.
Administration Visiting Tulsa.

"The railroad executives have been waiting for the president's permission to perfect their plans for taking over the roads, and the fixing of the date at March 1 will afford them additional time to work out a reconstruction program," said Edward Chambers of Washington, director of traffic United States railroad administration, who is in Tulsa for the holidays.

Mr. Chambers said that with the government ready to turn the lines over, it was now up to congress to enact legislation that would aid them in reorganizing. He declined to hazard a guess as to what congress would do with either the Commerce or Fuel bills.

He arrived here yesterday to spend the holidays with his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Chambers.

car, and although enjoying his visit in only a partial way, as he is on the car, he kept busy attending to traffic matters that are worried him from the capital.

As traffic head of the railroad administration Mr. Chambers looks above all other traffic chiefs. He has the government's back over the roads, he was head of the Santa Fe traffic department along with E. H. Bann when Walter D. Hines, then chairman of the board, he was in charge of the Santa Fe line during the 1910-1911 season. Mr. Hines was then the first director of the Santa Fe line.

It is the ambition of Mr. Chambers to return to the Santa Fe after the United States railroad administration is reorganized.

Walter D. Hines, son and Miss Anna Hines, wife of Mr. Chambers, accompanied him to Tulsa.

Shedels Rain Into Salvationist Hats as Akdar Band Plays

Silver and blue totaling in the immediate neighborhood of a thousand dollars rained into the Salvation Army kettles, and the Akdar band played on the streets, Wednesday morning. Many of the contributions fell from "con flags" from the second story offices into the large service flag which was carried horizontally. Large crowds thronged around each kettle before which the band played. Most of the collections were Christmas in character.

BOYS GET MEMBERSHIPS

Business Men Present 50 Youthful With Appropriate Christmas Gift.

As the result of the interest of warm-hearted Tulsans, over 50 boys have been provided with memberships in the "Y" for the year which is just around the corner. Both men and women have contributed, one woman declaring that "I can't be a the brother, but I want to help anyway." The interest of the "big brothers" will not end with the signing of the membership checks, for all have promised to take an active personal interest in the boys hereafter. The follow-up activity will include regular reports to the "big brothers" on the home conditions and needs of the individual boys. As they are still more boys than memberships, Mr. Y. M. M. will arrange for memberships for the other worthy young boys on the list.

ASKS WIFE'S INSURANCE

D. D. Mills Alleges Oklahoma Equitable Association Refuses to Pay.

Judgment for $360, an insurance claim, was asked in superior court yesterday by D. D. Mills against the Oklahoma Equitable association, the plaintiff alleging the defendants have failed to pay him the amount due on life insurance carried by his wife, Lila May Mills, who died at Red Fork January 2, 1919. Mills says he is the beneficiary under the insurance policy, but that the defendant, in spite of the fact that he produced proof of his wife's death, has refused to pay him the amount due under the provisions of the policy.

Postal Authorities Make Speed Handling Huge Christmas Mail

Although double the amount of parcel post mail matter has been handled by the local postoffice this December, as compared with December of 1918, the local postoffice has made more rapid deliveries than ever before in the post office's history. Yesterday the outgoing parcel post racks were not over half-filled with mail matter and the incoming racks which filled to capacity, were being handled with dispatch. Postal officials say that the delayed deliveries of packages properly addressed, will be less than usual this year, in spite of the fact that the postoffice department failed to accept bids for reconstruction work on the postoffice building for the purpose of accelerating the hauling of parcel post matter.
